CAPITULATION OF METZ.

BERLIN, Oct. 27.—The King telegraphs to the Queen to-day: "This morning Bazaine and Metz capitulated, with 180,000 men, 50,000 of whom are sick and wounded. The army and garrison will lay down their arms this afternoon. This is one of the most important events of the war. Providence be thanked."

Special Cable to The Chicago Tribune.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—There is a startling rumor in town, attributed to private dispatches received here from London, to the effect that Bazaine has succeeded in an understanding with King William that the Prussian armies shall be withdrawn from Paris to Alsace and Lorraine, where it is expected they will form a strong defensive line, and the Republic of the French Republic, so-long as to be defined by the capture of Paris, after a long and exhausting siege, so long as the provinces of Alsace and Lorraine is not actually surrendered. The remaining strongholds in France occupied in possession of the French can easily be reduced by the concentration of the whole German strength there. Bismark believes that a good defense is now open to him by leaving the conquered provinces of the partisans of the present government, the Reds, the Imperialists, and Orleanists. Bismark is supposed to be in accord with the Emperor, who, by the surrender of a treaty with King William, will attempt to use his released army to restore the empire to its person either of Napoleon III. or his son.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—Your special correspondent at Orleans telegraphs the sentiment received from Money in Mexico, to the effect that upon receiving of further intelligence of the capture of Metz the war committee would sign any treaty involving the cession of French territory, or to be given to any scheme involving the possession of Alsace and Lorraine. They would only reluctantly sign any treaty. Thiers continues that he is willing to go to Versailles to confer with Bismark.

Reports from Tours indicate that the enemy is advancing on that town, and residents have been ordered to check them.

THE CAPITULATION OF METZ.

TOURS, Oct. 27.—Bazaine has ordered the Engineer in the province of Alsace to communicate at Nancy to express the progress of the French who are moving in that direction. It is understood that, when the troops are collected there, Lorraine will commence and hold out for the winter. Many regular troops are also to be incorporated in this army. It is also stated by many persons professing to be Bazaine's confidential friends that they shall leave the best weapons, and to that end Bazaine and Bourbaki have ordered that they are to be retained in the strongest strongholds. Regarding hearts most bitterly. Let only the true Bellona's brother whose rallying cry shall be, "God and the country."

BELGIUM.

TOURS, Oct. 27.—Information from Orleans says: "All the shops and stores are closed, and the streets are deserted by the citizens. The Government has left for Bourges, and panic reigns. The Prussian officers endeavor to dispel the gloom.

MARSEILLES.

MARSEILLES, Oct. 27.—At Marseilles affairs progress orderly. The Internationalists have been powerless to disturb the peace of the city. The Republic is kept firmly, and the authorities feel confident apparently put little regard to it.

GERMANY.

VERSAILLES, Oct. 26.—It is said that there are now two thousand Prussians in Chiteau d'Oh, eighteen miles out of Paris, are daily. They are here two months.

THE SIEGE OF PARIS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—A correspondent at the headquarters of the German army writes to the Herald:

THE SAXONS AT ARTHUR, SEVRES, LITTRY, Fontenay, and other points around the forces of the Guard and Saxons are concentrated. The Saxons and Guard are between the Seine and Marne, and the Bavarians on the right of the Guard. They have brought with them enough heavy guns into position to bombard Paris. A number of guns have been brought up by a new and rapid, and have been planted over the common roads, having been changed over the common roads. Everything is reported to be moved in the best order, but most difficulties are encountered in the transit of Saint-Cyr have been silenced, and the siege over the forts at Clamart and Montrouge. The latter work is greatly strengthened, but the fire is hot. When the guns are up, money has to be paid to the gunners to get them to work. The men are getting impatient of delay. They do not propose to have their French picture of the by
